Q: “I want to organize a fundraiser for Sherwood Autism Center, what should I do?”
A: Listed below are some ideas of the many ways that you can help raise funds and awareness for Sherwood Autism Center. This list is by no means exhaustive; let your creativity guide you!

- Go casual for Sherwood! For a suggested donation, co-workers can wear jeans or other casual attire at the office. If your office already keeps it casual, consider dressing up or hosting fun spirit day.
- Host a Give Back Night. If you manage or own a local restaurant or shop, this is an easy way to participate. Pick a day to donate a percentage of proceeds back to Sherwood.
- Host a sporting event – golf tournaments, frisbee events or other sports-related events can be a lot of fun.
- Host a Lunch & Learn at your company.
- Host a Wish List drive at your business or organization. Check out our Wish List and encourage others to purchase items for Sherwood.
- Children can get in the giving spirit too! Scout troops, youth groups, and school groups can have a donation drive for wish list items, bake sales, or lemonade sales on our behalf.
- Create a Facebook fundraiser and choose Sherwood Autism Center to be the beneficiary.

Q: What is a Lunch & Learn?
A: A lunch and learn program is a 30-45 minute training or presentation session facilitated by Sherwood to your employees during a lunch hour. You might decide to have it in an employee cafeteria, auditorium, or even in a conference room. What sets this concept apart from other programs is the accessibility and less formal structure of this approach. A Lunch and Learn is an easy way to educate about who we are, what we do, why we do it, and how employees may get involved.
